C GARDEN

SEVEN PLANTS FOR A COASTAL HOME

Udupi's jasmine leads today's guide. Behind it, six plants that do well in laterite soil, salty air and months of rain.

Udupi Mallige

ಮಲ್ಲಿಗೆ Jasminum sambac

LOCAL PRIDE

GI TAGGED

FRAGRANT

Also called Shankarpura mallige, after the villages near Udupi where it is grown in home gardens. The laterite soil and humid air of this coast give it a strong scent, white colour and large flowers, which is why it carries a Geographical Indication tag. Buds open within five to six hours, so they are picked and strung before they bloom.

LIGHT

Full sun for steady flowering.

WATER

Regular, but never standing in water. Let excess rain drain away.

SOIL	Rich, well-drained laterite soil suits it best.
FEED	Organic manure through the growing months.
HARVEST	Wrap the flowers in banana leaf and sprinkle with water. They keep for up to 10 days, though the scent fades.
WATCH OUT	Waterlogged roots in heavy rain. Raise pots on bricks.

Aboli

ಕನಕಾಂಬರ Crossandra infundibuliformis

UDUPI FAVOURITE

FLOWERS ALL YEAR

Firecracker flower in English, Kanakambara in Kannada and Aboli in Konkani and Marathi. Its orange and coral blooms are strung into garlands across the coast.

LIGHT

Bright morning sun, with cover from harsh afternoon sun.

WATER

Thoroughly, whenever the top few inches of soil are dry. Under-watering harms it.

Hibiscus

ದಾಸವಾಳ Hibiscus rosa-sinensis

BLOOMS MOST OF THE YEAR

EASY

The coast's everyday flower, seen on temple offerings and garden fences. It blooms through most of the year in warm, humid weather and grows well in pots or beds.

LIGHT

Full sun, five to six hours. It drops buds in deep shade.

WATER

When the top inch is dry. In heavy rain, let it dry between waterings.

SOIL

Well-drained. Mix coarse sand into

SOIL	Fertile, well-drained red loam, pH 6 to 7.5.		lateritic garden soil.
		FEED	A light feed every two to three weeks while it flowers.
CLIMATE	Warm and humid, 20 to 30 degrees C. It suits Mangaluru.
		PRUNE	Trim leggy stems after a flush of flowers.
FEED	Liquid fertiliser every two weeks in the growing season.

Tulsi

ತುಳಸಿ Ocimum tenuiflorum

SACRED

HERB

EASY

Holy basil, native to India and kept in a raised tulasi katte outside many coastal homes. It is a leafy herb as much as a sacred plant.

LIGHT

Full sun or partial sun.

WATER

Light watering, like a shower. Daily in summer, every other day in cooler weather. Do not flood the pot.

SOIL

Porous, well-drained, with added organic manure.

Curry leaf

ಕರಿಬೇವು Murraya koenigii

KITCHEN GARDEN

EVERGREEN

The kitchen tree behind every tempering. It loves warmth, so it settles in easily on the coast and needs no protection from cold.

Full sun.

WATER

Deeply but not often. Let the top 3 to 5 cm dry between waterings to avoid root rot.

SOIL

Well-drained soil that is rich in compost.

PRUNE	Pinch the growing tip for a bushier plant and remove flower heads early to keep it leafy.	FEED	Compost or organic manure every two to three months. Nitrogen-rich feed gives lush leaves.
WATCH OUT	Mealybugs, aphids, mites and whitefly. Spray a neem-based solution.	HARVEST	Pick leaves regularly from the tips so it keeps branching.

Monstera

Monstera deliciosa

INDOOR

LOVES HUMIDITY

The split-leaf climber that enjoys Mangaluru's humid air. It grows impressively through the monsoon months.

LIGHT

Bright spot, away from direct afternoon sun.

WATER

Moderate. Water only when the top of the soil starts to dry.

SOIL

Mix in coarse sand or perlite for drainage.

Canna lily

Canna indica

MONSOON PROOF

FLOWERING

A sturdy flowering plant that handles the monsoon better than almost any other. A good choice for a bed that stays wet.

LIGHT

Full sun for the most flowers.

WATER

Generous in dry spells. It copes with heavy rain.

SOIL

Rich soil that drains, with compost worked in.

AIR

Give it airflow and watch for fungal spots in wet weather.

PRUNE

Cut spent flower stalks and old leaves at the base.

THIS MONTH IN THE GARDEN

Check every pot has drainage holes, and clear the saucers after rain.

Mulch bare soil to stop splash and keep roots steady.

Give ferns and balcony plants airflow to avoid fungus.

Sow spinach, amaranth and fenugreek, which enjoy the humidity.

Shield young plants from strong wind and heavy downpours.

Mix coarse sand into laterite soil so roots do not sit wet.

D TALES

ONE EPISODE A DAY · PANCHATANTRA AND JATAKA

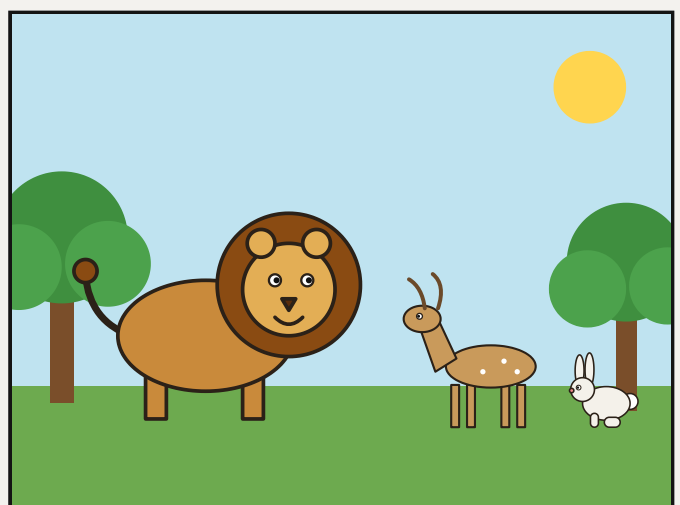

Two old Indian story books, one episode of each every morning, drawn as four panels with the moral at the end.

PANCHATANTRA · EPISODE 1 OF 7

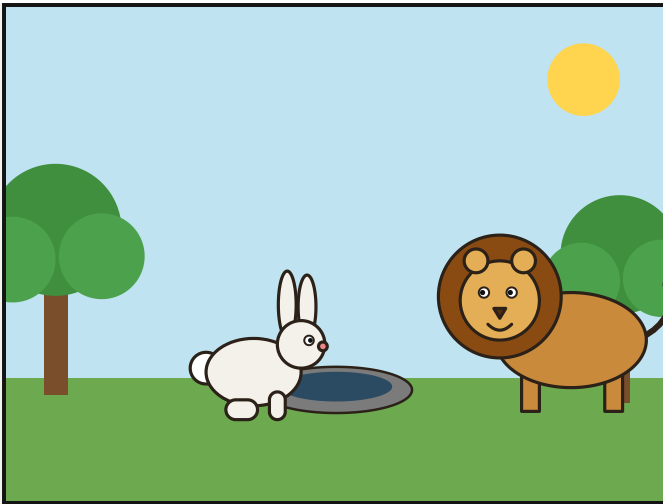

The Lion and the Clever Hare

1 A greedy lion hunted every animal in the forest, day after day. The animals feared they would all be gone.

2 They made a deal. One animal would go to the lion each day, so he would not have to hunt.

3 One day it was the little hare's turn. He walked slowly, then told the hungry lion that another lion had stopped him on the way.

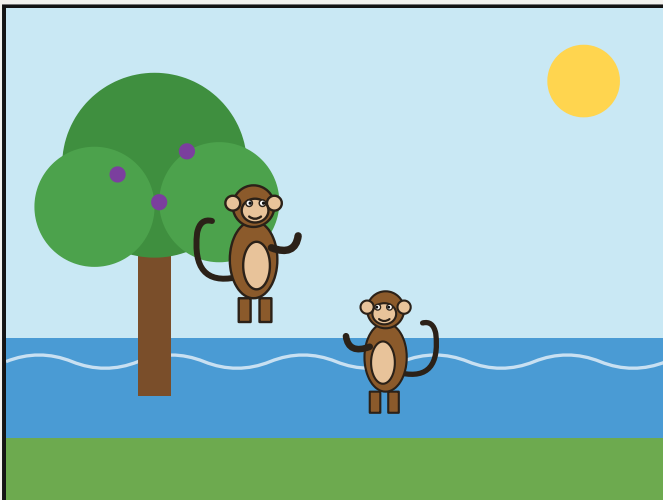

4 The hare led him to a deep well. The lion saw his own reflection, roared at the 'rival', and leapt in. The forest was safe again.

MORAL Cleverness can do what strength cannot.

JATAKA TALES · EPISODE 1 OF 6

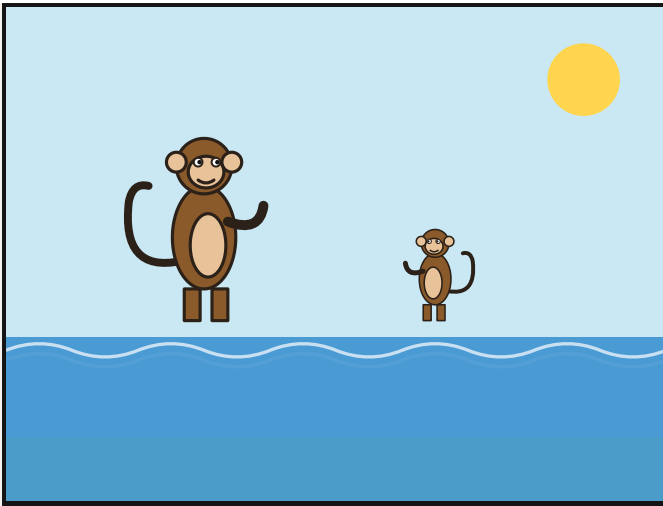

The Monkey King's Bridge

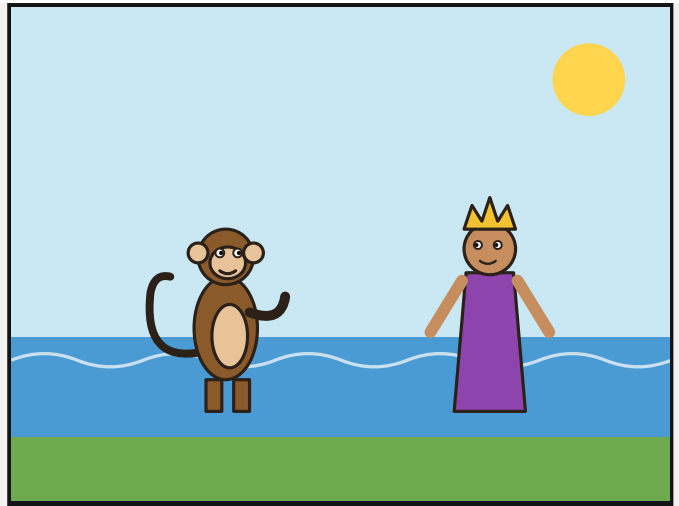

1 A monkey king led eighty thousand monkeys in a great mango tree beside the river. Everyone ate happily.

2 A king of men heard about the tree and sent his archers. Monkeys leapt in terror. The only way out was across the river.

3 The monkey king stretched his body from the tree to the far bank and made a living bridge. The monkeys crossed over his back.

4 The king of men watched, moved. He put down his bow and cared for the monkey king. He said, 'You are the true king of this forest.'

MORAL A true leader thinks of others before himself.
